

IT LOOKS LIKE CLEVELAND

Boom for Presidency Now on.

Eastern Arrivals at St. Louis Talking for the Former President.

Politicians Are Doing Most of the Booming, Few Delegates Having Arrived.

ST. LOUIS July 1.—Talk in the interest of Mr. Cleveland for the Presidency constitutes the most prominent feature of the anti-convention gossip heard today, and the publication here of a Washington dispatch quoting John R. McLean in advocacy of the ex-President's nomination has added somewhat to the volume of prediction.

No Organized Effort Yet.
There is no definite movement discernible as yet in Mr. Cleveland's interest and the few delegates in the city generally decline to discuss the probabilities, saying that all predictions would be premature at this time. The discussion is therefore confined to politicians other than delegates, and with reference to the Cleveland nomination these are divided into two classes—those who favor him and those who fear him.

East Wants Cleveland.
In a general way Eastern arrivals are favorable on the ground that Mr. Cleveland can carry Eastern cities, such as New York, which they say no other man can carry. It is asserted that strong influence among the business interests is being organized in his interest. At the Jefferson hotel, where the national committee meets its headquarters, the friends of Judge Parker are congregated in large numbers, and included among them is a number of delegates not instructed for the New York candidate.

Say Parker is Man.
They are very antagonistic to Mr. Cleveland, and believing that Mr. Parker is the most available instrument with which to accomplish the defeat of the ex-President, they are quite prepared to accept him. They lively predict Parker's nomination at a comparatively early date in the convention.

Hearst's Strength.
Delegates instructed for Mr. Hearst say that he will not only be able to control all his forces in case of a break, and the claim is made that even many of them will go to Parker. Indeed, the friends of Parker assert that the Cleveland talk which is now so plentiful, will have the inevitable effect of aiding their candidate. The Parker men do not accept the theory that McLean and Gorman are sincere in their support of Cleveland, calling attention to past antagonism in support of their theory.

Jones on the Ground.
Former Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic National committee, arrived in the city today and took apartments at the Jefferson hotel. He said that no definite arrangements for the organization of the convention had yet been made, and predicted that none would be made until the meeting of the full national committee which will take place next Monday. However, he advocates the selection of John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, leader of the minority in the house, for the position of temporary chairman, and there is now little or no doubt that the selection will fall upon Mr. Williams.

Permanent Chairmanship.
The permanent chairmanship will probably go to some northern delegate and Thomas E. Harkworth of Michigan and Patrick A. Collins are mentioned in that connection. The committee on arrangements for the convention will hold a meeting tomorrow, but it is not expected that it will make any recommendation with regard to convention officers.

Hearing Contests.
The National committee will also take up and dispose of the contest between the part of the rival delegates. The most prominent of these is the Illinois case, and Delegate Hopkins, who holds credentials as delegate at large, has been in the city all day busily occupied in presenting his claims.

Considering the Platform.
Longer in advance than usual the platform question is receiving the serious consideration of delegates and others interested in the party's welfare and it is already evident that there will be a persistent effort to secure an expression of party views which will meet the approval of all factions. "We must get a pronouncement which will meet the demands of all Democrats," said Representative Clayton of Alabama, "and I believe it is going to be a comparatively easy matter to accomplish that result."

Principal Contention.
Other party leaders on the ground expressed themselves in like optimistic manner. But when they entered upon a comparison of views it became evident that there are differences which will have to be smoothed down before the desired result can be secured. Evidently the principal contention will be over the point as to whether there shall be a specific declaration favorable to affirmation of the principles enunciated in the platform of 1896 and 1900. There is today some strenuous contention as to whether there shall be any references, whatever to those two declarations, and there are many shades of views as to how the subject should be covered.

What Bryanites Want.
Delegates who are close to Mr. Bryan, want a re-affirmation in terms, but some of them are content to say that, while making the re-assertion, they consider other and newer questions of leading importance and are willing on that account to give more prominence to them. Others take the position that it would be indelicate to mention the Chicago and Kansas City utterances, and urge that it will be sufficient to reaffirm the principles enunciated by all previous Democratic conventions and then pass to the consideration of newer questions. A third class would have all references to recent party declarations entirely omitted.

Will Be Left to Gorman.
Some express the opinion that the preparation of the platform will be left almost entirely to Senator Gorman and Representative Williams, the Democratic leaders in the two houses of congress. It is generally believed that the character of the platform will have a marked influence upon the presidential nomination, and as only a majority vote is required for its adoption, its exact wording will be awaited with much interest.

To Rush Nomination of Parker.
Two distinct lines of operation developed today in the preliminary skirmishing of the Democratic National convention. One is a scheme to rush the nomination of Judge Parker on the first or second ballot and the other is to scatter the vote and prevent any nomination, with a view of naming Cleveland or Gorman. The friends of Gorman and Cleveland are working to hold the convention for several ballots in the hope that their candidate may be named. The Gorman men are not parties to the Cleveland movement nor are the Cleveland advocates combining with Gorman's friends. There is no alliance, but it is to the interest of both that the Parker strength be disintegrated as soon as possible.

"Old Cleveland Guard."
There are a few men here—men of the old Cleveland guard—who are watching every point and who are in close communication with Cleveland's supporters, and in a subtle and subterranean manner they have been feeling the pulse of men as they arrive. They are using the race issue on the Southern men and with all delegates they use the argument that Cleveland is the only man that the Democrats can elect. With some effect they are pointing out to the Southern delegates that they need no better excuse for supporting Cleveland than that they did so for the purpose of preventing negro domination by the Republicans.

Ryan Heads the Move.
The man who is credited with being the head and front of the movement, is Charles F. Murphy, leader of the Tammany hall. Ryan is credited with having some Southern State delegations up his sleeve, ready to throw to Cleveland.

Gorman's Position.
Gorman's position is stated to be that he will not enter into any combination to prevent the nomination of Parker. He will make his own selection, but he will not be used to pull out chestnuts for Cleveland. Around Gorman are gathered the Maryland, West Virginia and District of Columbia delegations and some from other States, with a bare possibility of securing New Jersey and Pennsylvania. But, like Gorman, former Senator Smith of New Jersey, and James A. Guffey of Pennsylvania, want to see success in sight before they jump.

Little Talk About Bryan.
There is a little talk about what William J. Bryan may do, but some strange assurances are given that he will not bolt. A topic of discussion also is what the convention may do with Bryan. It is expected that he will have a vigorous dissent to the platform and possibly to the candidate, but some Democrats say that after expressing his dissent, it is not the intention of the leaders to allow any great latitude to him after his minority report has been rejected.

SHOTS FIRED AT NIGHT MARAUDERS

Bert Fuller, Chauffeur of Samuel Newhouse, Frightens Burglars Away.

LATE Thursday night some reports came into Police headquarters that burglars were prowling around on First street and had made several attempts to enter residences. Mounted Patrolmen Sperry and Brown were dispatched to the scene and succeeded in frightening the men away. Later in the evening they came prowling around Samuel Newhouse's residence and they were detected by his chauffeur, Bert Fuller. Seizing his revolver, Fuller started after the robbers and gave them a merry chase. He fired three shots at them as they were fleeing, but the darkness interfered with his aim and none of the shots took effect.
